

JAMES E. SULLIVAN AND JUSTICE WEEKS PLEAD FOR ATHLETICS

Candidates on Democratic Ticket Have Kept Free From Vilification Tactics.

The friends of James E. Sullivan, who is a candidate for County Clerk of New York County, express great satisfaction over the sentiment for his election which has grown out of his policy of keeping out of the personal attacks and free-for-all fighting of the present election season. Mr. Sullivan has made but few speeches, and in those has devoted himself to the sentiment that beyond honest and efficient administration public officials should encourage opportunities for healthful physical development, especially for the younger generation.

Immediately after Mr. Sullivan's nomination, which was given to him without his solicitation and at a time when he was in Europe as United States delegate at an international conference to establish fair play and friendship in international athletics, his cause was taken up by the James E. Sullivan Athletic League, which has made his campaign for him and has secured pledges for his support from the members of all parties, regardless of the general factional alignments.

The candidacy of Mr. Sullivan, like that of Harrow & Weeks for the Supreme Court bench, in the opinion of those who take a live interest in out and indoor athletic sports, stimulates the whole modern program for stirring interest in clean living. The name of Mr. Weeks, like that of Mr. Sullivan, is known the world around as that of a leader in the athletic movement which has put the United States ahead of the world in amateur sports.

In the few speeches which Mr. Sullivan has made he has devoted himself to advocating more public playgrounds and gymnasiums and the encouragement of their use. He is a member of the New York Athletic Club, of which Justice Weeks is one of the oldest members. Mr. Sullivan is also a member of the Irish-American Athletic Club, and of the Pastime Athletic Club, the chief of the city's athletic organizations. More than any other man he has established the amateur code in the athletics of this country, fighting for sport for sport's sake here and abroad, with the active encouragement of Theodore Roosevelt and other exponents of the doctrine that healthy bodies are the best and most effective frames for good citizens.

CYCLONE & COMFORT.
(From the Atlantic Constitution.)

The Mail prayed to be delivered from the Lion in the way; then he saw a Cyclone coming, and prayed against that; but the Cyclone blew the Lion sky-high, and the Lion himself was glad of it, because he was afraid of the Man.
